Have you ever been given a basket to carry water?

The Chukka Bucket Challenge will make your teams feel like they are being asked to do just that! In this exciting activity, participants are divided into competing teams. Using creative strategies, they must work as a team to outwit their competitors and fill their Chukka buckets in the best possible time. With a river or the sea close by, water is abundant, but the how much water can you really carry in a bucket. Sounds simple enough? Yet team members will find themselves facing unexpected challenges.
